POISONED WHISKY.

It is Alleged it Was Sent to a Cincinnati Woman by a Woman in Memphis.

THE PACKAGE BROKEN IN TRANSIT

Five Express Freight Handlers Partook of the Bottle's Contents and Became Deathly Sick.

One of the Men Died Shortly Afterward and Two of the Others Are in a Serious Condition and They May Also Die.

Cincinnati, May 15.—Five men, freight handlers, were poisoned by drinking poisoned whisky Wednesday night. The men were employed at the Adams Express Co.'s warehouse, at Butler street and Friendship-alley. In handling goods they came across a broken package which contained, as they thought, a bottle of whisky. The five men partook of the contents and soon became deathly sick.

The men poisoned were John B. Ficker, William Daly, Lewis Burbank, Wm. Stevens and George Eberle. The alarm was given and Dr. Marvin was summoned. He recognized at a glance that the men were poisoned. Ficker was placed in Patrol 2, and on the way to the city hospital he seemed to revive for a little while. As the wagon neared the hospital he fell into convulsions again and died in a few minutes. Eberle, who had fallen unconscious after he drank the stuff, was carried to the office of Dr. Tate, at Third street and Broadway, and, after being pumped out, was taken to his home. Daly and Burbank were hurried to the city hospital in patrols and their stomachs washed out.

Both were in convulsions and their condition is critical. Stevens was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he was pumped out. He is in a serious condition.

The bottle was sent from Memphis, Tenn., it is alleged, by Mrs. Lizzie McCormick to Mrs. Kate Nobbe, of this city.

Mrs. Nobbe believes that Mrs. McCormick sent her the poison in a fit of jealousy. The handwriting of the woman who has written alleged objectionable letters to Mrs. Nobbe and the handwriting of the address on the bottle are similar.

Mrs. Nobbe at police headquarters stated that Mrs. McCormick was a housekeeper for her brother-in-law, Edwin Pell, saloonist, of Memphis.

She said: "I am satisfied that Lizzie McCormick sent that poison to me. I do not know why she is jealous of me. I never did anything to her. No, my husband did not have anything to do with this. I am not certain where he is now. The last I heard of him he was out west."

The Two Were Friends.

"Mr. Pell is friendly to me. He was in the city a short time ago, and called on me. He has been kind to me. I don't know whether he had anything to do with it or not."

"Lizzie McCormick and I were friends when I lived down south. As far as I know, she was never in Cincinnati. She has written me kind letters and expressed great friendship for my children."

"There has been some talk by other relatives, and her mind may have been poisoned against me. She told me in a letter I received a long time ago not to think that she was angry at me."

"All of a sudden she turned on me, and for some months has been my enemy. The package she sent me a few days ago was a suggestive one, and I sent it right back."

Mrs. Nobbe then produced half a dozen letters from Mrs. McCormick and they were examined. The writing was almost identical with that on the package addressed to Mrs. Nobbe. There were a few discrepancies.

Lieut. Sam Corbin swore out a warrant, charging the McCormick woman with murder in the first degree in the death of J. B. Ficker. The warrant was sent at once to Memphis. There will arise a question of jurisdiction in the case at once. The poison was sent from Memphis, but the death took place in Cincinnati.

Early Thursday Chief Millikin received a telegram from Chief Mason, of Memphis, saying that he had under arrest, Lizzie Elrod, alias McCormick, on the charge of murder, and that he is holding Pell subject to an investigation. The woman, the telegram says, will come to Cincinnati without a requisition. The chief believes from the tone of the telegram that the Memphis chief has important information, or he would not have placed Pell under arrest. It is the theory that the woman secured the liquor in Pell's saloon, with which she "spiked" the poison.

Memphis, Tenn., May 15.—Mrs. McCormick Thursday night made a statement to the police in which she said that she and Mrs. Nobbe were not on good terms. She admitted being jealous of the Cincinnati woman. She said that she was a daughter of William Elrod, a farmer living near Oxford, Miss. Mrs. McCormick has employed attorneys and it is expected that habeas corpus proceedings will be instituted Friday morning.

BLOODLESS SHOOTING AFFAIR.

Stewart Hager and South Strong Were the Participants.

Lexington, Ky., May 15.—While bloodless, the latest shooting affair in Jackson involved the possible origin of a new feud, had any of the participants been killed. Stewart Hager and South Strong met in Cole's grocery Wednesday and Strong began to tease Hager about a shooting affair of some day's previous. A quarrel followed and Hager put a bullet through Strong's coat. Strong had a warrant issued and Deputy Elijah Noble undertook to serve it, finding Hager at Comb's drug store. Hager declined for reasons not known to submit to arrest and walked away. When about 30 paces Noble ordered him to halt. Hager ignored the order and Noble fired. Hager wheeled with a pistol in either hand and fustled Noble to cover. Friends of the several parties had armed themselves and were ready to enter the affray had any development warranted interference. In the exchange of shots the glass front of Bohaman's drug store was shattered. Neither of the men were hurt and since friends took no part the incident is considered closed. At last reports Hager had not been arrested on the warrant.

Train Jumped the Track Near Hot Springs, Ark.—One Man Killed and Twenty Other People Injured, One Fatally.

Washington C. H., O., May 15.—The Cincinnati and Pittsburg express on the Midland division of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern was wrecked five miles east of Washington C. H. Thursday morning and two persons were killed and several seriously injured.

The killed: Engineer John May, Newark, O.; Fireman J. A. Leighton, Newark, O.

The injured: F. M. Moore, Chillicothe, engineer, cuts and bruises on face and head; H. L. Wilson, Detroit, Mich., traveling salesman, internally injured, not believed to be serious; J. W. Ford, a farmer, of Near Ashland, O., injured internally; Mrs. Elizabeth Robbins, of Robbins Station, Pa., badly cut on ankle. All the other passengers were badly shaken up and some sustained painful bruises.

The accident was caused by spreading rails. The train was running at a speed of about 45 miles an hour when it left the track. Engineer May heroically stuck to his post and cut off the steam and applied the air brakes. He might have escaped by jumping but gave up his life to save his passengers. The engine rolled down a small embankment. The other cars left the track but none of them were overturned.

F. M. Moore, a B. & O. engineer from Chillicothe, had a miraculous escape. He was riding in the engine, learning the road. When the ponderous machine rolled down the embankment Moore rolled out of the cab. He was later found in a wheat field nearby in a dazed condition.

STREET CARS COLLIDE.

Ten Women Were More or Less Seriously Injured at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 15.—Two street cars, the second and last in a string of three cars bearing a trolley party of officers and delegates of the national convention of Royal Neighbors, collided Thursday evening on Central avenue at Seventeenth street. Ten women were more or less injured, three of whom are hurt seriously. They are Supreme Recorder Mrs. Winifred Fielder, of Peoria, Ill.; Deputy Organizer Mrs. Ada Lawson, of Anoka, Minn., and Mrs. Joseph Briggs, of Sheldon, Ia.

The front car stopped suddenly at a crossing and the rear car crashed into it. The ladies in the rear car were hurled forward, many of them being bruised about the faces and chests by striking the backs of forward seats. Mrs. Lawson was carried to a house near the accident while the other injured were taken to their hotels. The front end of the rear car was crushed.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 15.—The outbound passenger train on the Choctaw, Oklahoma & Gulf railroad, which left here at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, jumped the track on a 15 foot embankment about a mile east of this city Thursday, wrecking all of the cars except the Pullman sleeper and carrying an iron bridge down into Gulpha creek. One man was killed and at least 20 other persons were injured, one fatally and several others seriously.

It is said the accident was due to the recent heavy rains having loosened the embankment, causing the rails to spread.

It is known to be a fact that cats, as well as snakes, have the power to "charm" birds. One day this week a bird was noticed fluttering about a tree top, but the position of the observer was such that he could not see what caused it until he was led by curiosity to investigate, when he found that a cat was a short distance below the bird. The latter didn't seem to have the power to fly from the tree, but kept fluttering in close proximity to its enemy. Upon our informant shaking the tree, which was a small one, and contained no nest, the bird at once flew off, the charm evidently having been dissipated by the movement.

HIGHEST HONOR STATE KNOWS.

The Chief Magistrate of the Nation Attired in Black Academic Robes, Trimmed With Purple.

He Then Addressed the Assemblage, Eulogizing the State, its People and the University—Trip to Mare Island Navy Yard.

Berkeley, Cal., May 15.—The citizens of Berkeley united with the members of the faculty and students of the University of California Thursday morning in tendering a tremendous ovation to President Roosevelt and party. School children, gaily festooned with flowers, assembled on either side of the street leading to the university. The thoroughfare had been brilliantly decorated for the occasion, and when the presidential party passed the avenue was completely carpeted with blossoms.

As the president stepped from his carriage and made his way to the amphitheater, he was surrounded by 16 cavalymen. He wore a hood and gown, in conformity with the degree of doctor of philosophy. The presidential party arrived just before the conferring of degrees.

After the cheers which greeted the appearance of the president had subsided the rulers of the student body greeted the head of the nation with the Harvard yell. He gave approval by nods and smiles. President Benjamin Ide Wheeler and Gov. Pardee then conferred degrees upon 400 collegians who sat on the stage with cap and gown. After this the president was introduced by President Wheeler.

Then as the president, attired in black academic robes, trimmed with purple, stepped into the sunlight, President Wheeler said:

"Theodore Roosevelt, by authority of the regents of the University of California, I confer on you the degree of doctor of laws. This is the highest honor the state knows how to confer on you. Its best it gives gladly."

President Roosevelt addressed the assemblage, eulogizing the state, its people and the university, speaking in affectionate terms of his old time friend, President Wheeler.

At the conclusion of the exercises the president left for Oakland, where he was driven through the principal streets, accompanied by Gov. Pardee, Senator Perkins and the reception committee. In front of the high school the president delivered a short address. He was then driven to the water front and took a steamer to the Mare Island navy yard.

As a result of the outlawry in Breathitt County and the failure of the authorities to enforce the law, the suggestion has been made to abolish the county, and apportion the territory among the adjoining counties. Either that ought to be done, or the present officials should be "abolished," and men put in charge who will not wink at such crimes as have been committed there in recent years.

Come to think of it, some of the candidates at the recent Democratic State primary were up against the "rawest" political deal ever manipulated in Kentucky. They were required by Allie Young and his committee to plank down their good money to pay the expenses of the primary, and were certainly entitled to fair treatment at the hands of the committee, as that committee is supposed to represent the party. Instead of treating all alike, however, and giving each man a show for his money, it is an open secret that the committee had its "slate" and the party machinery was brazenly manipulated in the interest of the favored candidates. The great rank and file of the Democratic party in Kentucky cannot afford to sanction such deepicable methods. The sooner it gets rid of Allie Young and his committee, the better for the party. The good men who put up their money for the expenses of the recent campaign should sue to recover it on the ground that the committee obtained it under false pretenses.

Perfect Soda Water.

Daintiness marks the making and serving of our Soda Water; satisfaction and refreshment follows the drinking. Fairly good soda is not hard to find, but absolutely perfect soda is a rarity.

We serve perfect Soda because we have the fountain, the experience, the skill and do not hesitate to spend money to make our Soda best. We look after the cleanliness as carefully as though we had to do all the drinking ourselves.

To drink
 Our Soda is to go
 Out glad.

HARD TO EXPLAIN.

If This Had Occurred Anywhere Else Than Maysville Our Readers Might Doubt It.

It's hard to explain how the public can continue to doubt in the face of such evidence. If this were published anywhere else than in Maysville; if the statement given below went the rounds of the press, readers in Boston or New Orleans might doubt it. But it's very different when the testimony given comes from a friend, perhaps a neighbor. It is public expression of a local citizen, and can be easily investigated.

Mr. Larmon Dawson, residing at 934 East Second street, says: "The quick relief from pain in my back which followed the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, proved them to possess remarkable powers. From the satisfactory results obtained I can advise all in need of a kidney medicine to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

THEY ALL SAY!

Said a gentleman who bought one of our Wool Crash Coat and Pants yesterday, "I did not expect to find as perfect fitting garment ready made as these." No house in the State shows as elegant line of crashes as we do. We want you to see them.
